

Saxon Paint was established in 1914 by Jacob Saks. Individual retail stores were owned and operated by several of Jacobs relatives. Jacob's grandson Alan Saks assembled several family members stores into a single company and became president of the company. Alan expanded the company into a 50 store retail chain called Saxon Paint and Home Care Centers, Inc. and a subsidiary centralized warehouse and paint factory called Dreeblan Paint.